Anyone who travels from thirty to thirty-five thousand miles a year, sleeps in a different bed almost every night, scarcely ever eats two meals in succession at the same table, speaks to thousands of eager young people individually and in gatherings great and small, ought to be pretty sure of the worth-whileness of his work. I was interested in Christian education long before coming to Olivet. My work on the field for the last two years has only deepened my interest. It is no small privilege to travel with the superintendents of eight districts, meet the pastors and members of more than 700 churches, associate with the members of the faculty, mingle with as fine a student body as one could hope to meet and become acquainted with the parents of most of them. I have been received as a brother beloved in the Lord and made to feel so thoroughly welcome in assemblies, churches, homes and at Olivet, that I can only say: "TEN THOUSAND BLESSINGS ON EVERY ONE OF YOU."

J. H. Feist
Field Representative.

Greetings!

It is with a deep sense of appreciation for you—the student body of Olivet College—that I review our labors together during the past school year. It has been a year of transition and change; yet there has been such a fine spirit of loyalty and cooperation on your part that it has been a joy to serve you. You have been so kind, considerate, and patient in the adjustments that have been necessary, and I appreciate it from the depths of my heart.

I realize that you, of the senior class, will not be returning next year; yet I shall follow you with my prayers and interest, as you go out to live the ideals of your Alma Mater. May heaven's richest blessings ever be yours.

Sincerely,

A. H. Barrett

"WE'VE HAD MANY JOYS"

The 1939 College Senior Class of thirty-four members is the largest one to graduate from Olivet College. The Seniors have been dubbed, and justly so, as the class of originality. Led by their inimitable sponsor, Professor Howe, and Class President Carmony, they have scored high achievement in all directions.

The Senior Trip to Trevecca College, Nashville, Tennessee, set a precedent in Nazarene college history. The senior chapel hour disclosed the diversified dramatic abilities of the class members. Perhaps the "divine right of personality" expressed itself. Anyway, Olivet College will not soon forget the Famous Class of '39.

'Bout this feller that's named Howe,
Reason why I write this thyme
He's a special friend of mine.

BYRON M. CARMONY, '39

If stolen fruits are the sweetest and stolen meats are the richest, then stealing away at four o'clock in the morning on Junior Sneak Day is the biggest thrill of the year.

Shadows on the campus and hushed groups huddling in every available corner scampered to their appointed cars on the hour and were off for a big day at the State capital.

Juniors haunted the halls of the capitol, added profound knowledge to their mental treasury at the state museum, and paid their respects at Lincoln's home and tomb.

In the afternoon they transported themselves to the rustic lives of their forefathers in Salem State Park. But the evening with its mellow golden moon over the liquid expanse of Springfield Lake and a hearty hamburger-fry on its shores brought them to modern realities. For half an hour the old-fashioned hymns floated over the lake from those lusty throats, as they came to the end of a perfect day.

S O P H O M O R E S

There is a harmony unlike, and yet not unlike, that of music—a harmony that is achieved by the natural cooperation of a group working together toward a definite goal. Such a harmony has existed in the Sophomore class during the year and has manifested itself in many ways.

The class picnic, parties, programs, and prayer-meetings have been brought about by this harmonic cooperation. Not always has this harmony been of the same tempo or mode. At times it has been light and playful, at times measured and intellectual, and again it has been devotional and awful; but always it has been there—the harmony of peaceful cooperation.

We freshmen will never forget our first year at Olivet. Such expressions as: "Why, that's right, Bro. Andrews," "Your trouble, Mr. Evans, is in the upper story," "Would you care to move to the foot of the class?" and "Most people only reach the vestibule of the palace of art," will always recall to us this memorable year of 1938-39.

Freshman memories: registration day—dorm food—homesick—hamburg fry—mosquito bites—Hallowe'en party—Indian war dances—Aurora letters—new gym—turkey dinner—term papers—ice skating—vacation—finals—green carpet—report cards—valentines—ghost scandal—revival—recitals—outside reading—and so on, far into the night.

P I A N O

To master the technique of piano-playing may be considered the greatest feat in the realm of music. Our Piano Department, directed by competent instructors, is well able to guide those musically-inclined students to the heights in the art of music.

Much real progress has been made this year. The piano recitals definitely portrayed true accomplishment.

Were all those babel sounds which poured from such lusty throats last September worthy of the appellation, Music? Those wails, sighs, and whispers haunted us in our waking hours and disturbed our peace even after the curfew had tolled the knell of parting day. But under the persistent efforts of the Larsens, miraculous transformations have been wrought. No other division of the college has increased so rapidly as the Voice Department.

V O I C E

ORPHEUS CHORUS

In addition to numerous church and school appearances, the Orpheus Chorus has rendered a secular program in the Danville High School. But it has achieved its greatest success in a program sponsored by the Ohio District. During this—their seventh annual tour—the Chorus has inspired and blessed hundreds of hearts on every zone in Ohio. To the director, Professor Larsen, and the accompanist, Mrs. Larsen, are due the laurels for their patience and efficiency in training the Chorus.

The annual rendition of Handel's Messiah by the Choral Society has for several years gained renown for Olivet's Voice Department. This year the Society presents two divisions, the Girls' and Boys' Glee Clubs. In addition to their secular recital numbers, the choral group has rendered excerpts from the "Messiah" in the St. James Church in Danville. Its real goal was realized, however, on Palm Sunday when hundreds of hearts were stirred by those powerful strains from such favorites as "Worthy Is the Lamb" and the famous "Hallelujah Chorus."

CHORAL SOCIETY

ORCHESTRA

Through the efforts of Mrs. Herman Price, who optimistically clung to the faith that something could be created from nothing, Olivet proudly presents twenty-five of its talented sons and daughters in a well-proportioned orchestra. Among its several appearances this year the orchestra has played at Westville High School. Its greatest feat, however, was achieved in its presentation of "The Unfinished Symphony" by Schubert during the May Festival.

With hilarious beat of drum and furious blast of trumpet, the Band made its spirited contribution to the long-anticipated gym opening last fall. Discontent with this worthy achievement, they again urged us to action on rally days by the clang of cymbals and blare of bugles. Olivet's new pep song soon gained popularity through the band's unique interpretation. This active organization, directed by Mr. Harold Fitzgerald, made its final and greatest contribution to Olivet's musical year in an excellent spring concert.

ORPHEUS QUARTET

These four men have been spending their week-ends and their vocal chords in the service of Olivet College. Last summer and throughout this year, they have traveled to various points in our educational zone, "untwisting all the chains that tie the hidden soul of harmony." We wish for them in their travels this summer the same degree of success that they have encountered up to the present.

The Apollo Quartet, composed of Hallie Foster, 1st tenor; Byron Carmony, 2nd tenor; Harold Fitzgerrel, baritone, and James Everett, bass, one memorable night greeted the college and community with a song. After much prolonged silence and not too much preparation, at last they were launched on the sea of harmony. As they work for their Alma Mater this summer, let's bid them lots of luck and all good wishes.

APOLLO QUARTET

MUSIC THEORY

The Music Department specializes not only in piano and voice but also stresses those music-theory courses which make it a full-fledged School of Music. Competent instructors deal with these technical subjects, making them highly profitable to the individual student.

In the Children's Piano Department the Louise Robyn System of Pianoforte is taught exclusively. The Normal Students are permitted to attend, for observation and practice teaching, the classes in which children from the earliest pre-school period to teen age are taught. The success of this class is vividly portrayed by the Children's Recital.

Dear Students:

Time has proved that the hour spent in Sunday School will reap for you great dividends. See you 9:30, next Sunday morning.

As ever,

H. H. Price

S. S. Superintendent.

To the Class of 1939:

Real life is never constructed on the short-cuts. The Master never depreciated the moral axioms of the Old Testament; He included them in every structure He builded. He did not move with speed in His building, but He built with permanency and with those values which make Him looked upon as the Master Builder. Goals were set by the Master, and one goal which He set was the goal of the Kingdom of God. He never strived to reach this goal by the short-cuts. Personality, as He saw personality, could only be reached by codes which He set. But He did more than set the goals for us. He inspires us with the confidence that we can reach the higher life under His standards.

Students going out to make for themselves a place in life will do well to remember the teachings of Christ. Those teachings may be found in the Commandments. We set them here in the parlance of the day. Don't cut short to win the game. More important than winning the game is good sportsmanship. Faith in yourself, in your fellowmen, and in God will be of great value. Short-cuts to set goals in life will bring ruin to personality. "Take time to be holy."

In His Service,

Ferdall S. White

College Pastor.

Prayer Meetings!

"College is concentrated life," says Professor Jones. Intensive living calls for greater spiritual resources, we have found; so "when it's eveningtime in Olivet" it's student prayer meeting time, too. During the first semester it was our custom to have prayer meeting each week on Monday evening, Thursday noon, and Sunday morning before breakfast. Then two or three weeks prior to revival time, and while the revival was in progress, we met in prayer every night from 6:30 until 7:00 o'clock. These periods proved to be such a source of spiritual inspiration and refreshing of Christian fellowship, and we missed them so much when the revival had closed, that we decided to continue them. In student prayer meeting, all of us, and new converts especially, are given an opportunity to grow in grace and strength by praying and testifying in public and by leading prayer meeting.

CHAPEL

Services are held in the chapel four times each week from 9:45 to 10:15. Though often secular, they are primarily devotional in nature. Through the year these services have proved of inestimable value. We are privileged to hear the best speakers available. These contacts are often high points in our college year.

M I S S I O N A R Y B A N D

"Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature!" has been the call to the youth of our Nation. These with many others have answered the call and are preparing to carry the Message to the regions beyond.

They realize that there must be an agonizing over lost souls and a love for truth and for one another that will not allow separation. Realizing this, they see their need for message study and are giving themselves whole-heartedly to it.

CAMP MEETING!

The Camp Meeting held each year in connection with the graduation activities of the college is always a source of spiritual uplift. The very best ministers are obtained, who feed and lead us on to spiritual high-places. Conviction seizes the unsaved and believers are sanctified.

The blessing of God seems to manifest itself in each service. The long altar is often filled night after night with earnest seekers. It thus becomes a fitting climax to the college year.

Revivals!

Our fall revival services were conducted by President A. L. Parrott who preached under the anointing of the Holy Spirit. The entire student body became Christ-conscious. Many of them bowed at the Chapel altar and found pardon or sanctification. Others were led on to greater spiritual activity.

The spring revival under the forceful preaching of Rev. Mathis, Dist. Superintendent of the Dallas District, is difficult to describe. There were so many high points that it might be called a mountain-top revival. Many spiritual battles were fought. Many went deeper into the things of God. Spiritual question marks were erased. Vows were renewed, souls were saved and sanctified. Truly, God was with us!

N. Y. P. S.

In our N.Y.P.S. services throughout the past year a wonderful spirit of cooperation has been manifested by all of our young people. And above all, our services have been graciously blessed of the Lord. The vesper services and community sing were especially appreciated. The value of our programs to the students can not be over-emphasized for they gave opportune time for individual initiative and talent which is so necessary to our spiritual growth.

Finally, I would say, these associations have been a means of deepening my own Christian character, for which I am grateful to the members of the Olivet N.Y.P.S. and to God.

HONOR SOCIETY

Although we feel justified in proclaiming these honor students as men and women of note, we shall not relegate scholastic achievements to a musical category. However, true scholarship does bring harmony to the soul. A new plan adopted by the Bethany Convention this summer provides a national honor society for our Nazarene Colleges. We feel assured that this new incentive will add zest to healthy competition and swell our honor roll.

One Friday morning in Chapel the Student Council proudly assumed ownership of the faculty pews and announced to the student body that henceforward and forevermore they would sponsor a student program on Friday of each week. This plan has been highly successful. Many entertaining programs have been given. The devotional programs have been especially appreciated. Hats off to Professor McClain and the Student Council!

Olivet College has proved its mettle in debate this year by repeatedly proving definitely that government spending for the purpose of stimulating business should cease or that it should not cease.

The teams attended four invitational tournaments—at Bloomington, Illinois; Charleston, Illinois; Huntington, Indiana; and Lake Forest, Illinois. They have won a good percentage of all their debates this year, our men debaters being especially successful. They have set a record and a precedent for Olivet's future debaters by being victors in the state finals at Lake Forest. When the results of the final tournament were announced, our two men's teams had won the men's affirmative cup and the men's negative cup—first honors in the men's division.

Credit for a successful debate season is due not only to those who participated in the forensic frays but also to the power behind them—Prof. C. S. McClain—who shaped the cases and offered the suggestions that brought our debaters ultimate victory.

FORENSIC

It is the silver tones of good speech that distinguish this group. Chiming down through the year have come programs, presented from various fields of forensic activity, including readings, forum discussions, and radio broadcasts. The aim of the society is to better its members so that their words will ring in years to come for the good of humanity and the glory of Olivet.

THE OLIVET COLLEGIAN

The Olivet Collegian is intended to serve a three-fold purpose. In the first place, this publication which makes its appearance four times a year carries pictures and such news of the school as will be valuable for publicity purposes among our prospective students. In the second place, the Collegian forms a link between the College and its constituency throughout the educational zone and is intended as a medium through which the friends and supporters of the school may keep themselves informed as to the activities of the College. In the third place, the Collegian strives to serve, in a measure at least, the members of the Alumni Association by including news from time to time from our graduates around the world.

CAMPUS GHOST

To whom it may concern:

The Campus Ghost is the name of the daily news sheet of Olivet's Campus life. It shadows everybody's activities and publishes them. The Ghost not only captures all the gossip, scandal, announcements and what have you, but endeavors to publish, in each issue, a devotional and inspirational thought or two. The quality of the paper depends primarily upon the student contribution, for the Ghost is intended to be the mouth-piece of the entire student body. Prof. L. H. Howe has been a very excellent faculty sponsor for this publication since its career began in '33.

Aurora Contest

The 1939 Aurora Contest was a "heap-big" success. The unconquerable Squaws under the leadership of Minnehaha and Papoose Pat, and the invincible Braves led by Chief Wahoo and Papoose Sam, gave us a splendid example of honest-to-goodness Indian fighting. War cries, feathers, and paint were much in evidence. When the war had subsided and the terms of the Gitchee-Aurora Treaty were disclosed, we found that the Squaws had walloped the Braves. Squaw Josephine Wise scored for highest individual honors. Adequate prizes were given. Really, the contest was the best ever!

The Alumni Association

To all those who find themselves in Olivet College preparing for a life of service, greetings!

The work of the world is rapidly changing with the acceleration of technological advancement. Each generation has a new set-up of jobs and activities, which demand new skill. But the demand for general knowledge, resourcefulness, and, above all, Christian character is, and will be ever the same. This demand you are preparing to meet in Olivet College.

The musical score is written for piano and voice. It consists of six systems of music. Each system has a piano accompaniment on the left and a vocal line on the right. The piano part is in 4/4 time and features a steady, rhythmic accompaniment. The vocal part is in 4/4 time and features a melody that is both spirited and catchy. The lyrics are written below the vocal line.

Olivet's Athletics

For another year Olivet's eternal triangle has furnished exciting entertainment for the athletic fans in our student body. Aside from our regular classes for the betterment of the physical life of our students, a large number of both men and women have enjoyed a healthful program of recreation as the teams representing the three divisions of the student body have contested for supremacy in the various sports throughout the school year.

The fall baseball schedule furnished a season of competition which was superior to the previous seasons as a result of the new talent furnished by this year's incoming Frosh.

A new feature added this year was the fall All-School tennis tourney which ended as we all knew it would. But it was fun!

Our basketball season seemed as though it, too, were a new feature for the old students who had accustomed their game to the cracker box practically had to learn the game anew when we entered the new gym to play off a very fine season of ball in the wide open spaces of the new building.

The volley ball, tennis, and spring baseball schedules and the 1939 Field Day left us all with a very pleasant array of memories and—A Definitely Improved Spirit Of Christian Sportsmanship.

Soft Ball

Snyder, G. Jones, R. Jones, Buster, Bennett, Cochrill, Van Giesen, Sommerville, Taylor, Roberts, Clark, Sisk, Westhafer, Price, James.

Gouthey Jones and George Snyder tied for a .432 batting average—the highest in the school at the end of the season. With Herman Price pitcher and Ralph Jones catcher, the outlook for the Trojan men in the spring hardball season is quite favorable.

Society Officers

George Snyder, President
Pat Moore, Vice-President
Mary Purinton, Secretary

George Snyder, Trojan president, has served with remarkable efficiency in the capacity of society athletic director. Mary Purinton, prim little secretary-treasurer, has faithfully kept accounts and reports for the society. Especially do we wish to recognize the work of Pat Moore, vice-president, and tennis and softball star, who has fought eight consecutive years for the Trojans with the indomitable spirit of a true Helen of Troy.

Basketball

Sisk, G. Jones, Snyder, Cochrill, Roberts, Bennett, Van Giesen, Sommerville, Buster, Taylor, Westhafer, Price, James.

The standing of the Trojan men at the end of the basketball season was not indicative of the good playing that was actually done. On the first team were Harry Hatton, Gouthey Jones, Sam Roberts, George Snyder, Herman Price, Elvin Buster, and Bill Lee. Price and Jones led the scoring for the Trojan men.

Softball

Fonner, Heath, Moore, W. Gibson, E. Gibson,
Carpenter, Purinton, R. Browning, Pash,
Lewis, Conrad.

Until the last game of the fall season the Trojan women's softball team failed to show its real strength. With Pat Moore as pitcher and the victorious basketball trio—Carpenter, Gibson, and Conrad—as catcher, first baseman, and third baseman, respectively, the Trojan girls have a good line-up for the spring softball season.

The athletic season opened with an interesting softball tournament which ended in a three-way tie, each team having won two games. When the tie was played off the Indian Braves came forth with one scalp instead of two, having lost first place to the Spartans.

Society Officers

Howard McCoy, President
Harold Fitzgerald, Vice-President
Jean Browning, Secretary

Much of the success which the Indians attained this year can be attributed to the persistent working of the executive staff composed of Howard McCoy, Harold Fitzgerald, and Jean Browning. As this goes to press the Indians and Spartans are running close competition, and it looks as if it may take to the last minute of Field Day to decide the victor.

Basketball

Gillette, Richey, Chalfant, Klingman, Gale,
Woodruff, Cable, McCoy, Fitzgerald, Foster,
D. Roushey, R. Roushey.

The men's first team won second place in spite of the handicaps thrust upon them by having several players ill, and Dick Roushey injured. Lanky Fred Chalfant proved to be a scoring terror to his opponents, and a scoring hero to his colleagues. The second team won first place. Although the members of this team may have begun the season by playing like novices, they developed into a strong team which should furnish recruits for next year's first team.

Soft Ball

Green, Price, Fields, Smith, Storer, Cox, Hare,
Caskey, Browning, Dunkum, Gunnoe,
Ten Eyck.

The Indian Squaws played their usual brand of good softball this season. The end of the tournament found them carrying off the spoils of the battle, after having won the championship.

Tennis

McCoy, Ten Eyck, J. Browning, Chalfant, Parrott.

The tennis tournament which will be held sometime in May will bring together old rivals, when Fred Chalfant, Indian, will meet Morris Chalfant, Spartan; and Jean Browning, Indian, will meet Pat Moore, Trojan.

Although we can't accurately predict the outcome of this tournament, we can assert that the Indians won the volleyball tournament.

Basketball

Price, Smith, Fields, Storer, Cox, Hare, Caskey, J. Browning, Dunkum, Gunnoe, Ten Eyck.

The basketball team was composed mostly of new members, who through the aid of spinach or practice or both, showed a gradual improvement during the season.

Slugging, fielding, and with a spirit unequalled, the Spartans softball team came through the fall season as champions. The race was the closest in several seasons of competition and wasn't decided till the Spartans defeated the Indians in the play-off game.

Society Officers

Waldo Albert, President
Juanita Nicholson, Vice-President
Miriam Willingham, Secretary

Waldo Albert as coach of the boys and Juanita Nicholson as coach of the girls, deserve a good bit of the credit for the successful season. Both of them worked hard and were ably assisted by Miriam Willingham.

Basket Ball

Wellman, Morgan, Shadowens, F. Albert,
Blue, M. Chalfant, W. Albert, Hutchinson, Fast.

Starting where they left off last year as champions, the basketball teams went through all opposition and closed a successful season. Led by Morris Chalfant, and playing coach Waldo Albert, the first team retained the crown while the second team finished second in the final standings.

Soft Ball

McCoy, Gregg, Wilcoxon, Stull, Swalwell, Wicker, Mumau, James, Willingham, Nicholson, Howe.

The Spartan lasses had the true fighting spirit but the competition was a little too great, and they had to be content with second place. The girls fought hard and were plenty of trouble all season. The champion Indians had too much power.

Tennis

M. Chalfant, Gregg, James, Wellman.

The boys team will be led by Morris Chalfant. Wendell Wellman will be his partner in doubles. Pauline James and Miriam Gregg will play for the girls. We are looking forward to a successful outcome in the tournament.

Basketball

Wicker, Swalwell, Gregg, Stull, McCoy, Willingham, Mumau, Nicholson, Howe.

With Juanita Nicholson as coach the girls basketball team had a very satisfactory season. Though not champions, they were always a thorn in the side of the opposition, and weren't out of the running till the final game, finishing second. Willingham and Gustin were the outstanding players.

CLASS TOURNEY CHAMPIONS:

THE HIGH SCHOOL, DEFEATED THE SOPHOMORES IN THE FINALS 60 TO 43.

Olivet College,
March 31, 1939.

Physical Education Fans,
Olivet Educational Zone, U. S. A.

Dear Friends:

We wish you could have been with us the night of December 17. It was the occasion of the grand opening of our new gymnasium. Oh, yes, the band was there with all the other necessary trimmings. An enthusiastic and hilarious crowd gathered to see the three games.

The first was Howe's Cookie Dusters vs. McClain's Spinach Kings. The second game the Trojan girls played the All-Star team. The last, the High School walloped the college. The Trojan girls won the second game and Howe's Cookie Dusters brushed the Spinach Kings almost to oblivion. Really it was keen sport.

We are sorry you all couldn't be here so we could thank you personally, but we wish to express our appreciation by writing this letter. We are already reaping benefits from your sacrifice. May God bless you, and enable us to make the gymnasium a means of spiritual betterment by helping us to have stronger bodies and healthier minds.

Sincerely,

THE STUDENT BODY.

With feeling

There ought to be a time for ro-mance in ev'ry body's life, I'd say. Now we have just that time for ro-mance, a time for love and life that's gay. It's

Sat-ur-day night Ol-1-vet, night time rev-er-ie. ——— Boy and girl here and there, love's old melo—dy. Some are down at the Wag-on wheel with their ra-dio, ——— Oth-ers talk or take a walk, 'round the Square they go.

CAMPUS CAULDRON

OUR EDITOR

A ruthless song writer named Byron
Fell in love with a lovely young siren;
She treated him cool,
So he used her for fuel
When the furnace one day he was firin'.

OUR PRESIDENT SAYS:

"I never kissed my wife until I married her; and after we were married, I was glad of it."

OUR PROFS SAY:

Prof. Greer: "I don't know much about music, but I've sure got rhythm."

Prof. Bushey: "They used to call me 'Splinter,' because I was such a little shaver."

Prof. McClain: "We'll have a surprise test tomorrow."

Class: "Then it won't be a surprise."

Prof.: "Then we'll have it the next day."

Prof. Howe: "There are two things you can't keep down—a good man and a bad oyster."

Prof. Smith: "Have you any religious views?"

Gordon Woods: "No, but I've got some dandy snapshots of Niagara Falls and the Great Lakes."

GAZIN'

I gazed around the class today,
And, my, the queer expressions
I saw on all the faces there!
I'll give you my impressions.

I saw one girl who seemed content
To hearken to the teachin',
While just ahead sat one who for
Her powder-puff was reachin'.

The face of one betrayed concern
About some thing or other,
I figgered maybe he had failed
To hear from Dad and Mother.

The only thing that bothered one
(Who thinks herself a beauty)
Was if her hundred bobby-pins
Were stickin' to their duty.

The bell has rung; I should be hung
For wastin' so much time,
But maybe you who read will like
My gazin' set to rhyme.

—Wendell Q. Wellman.

AMBITION

I used to think when just a kid
A teacher I would be;
Perhaps the one that teaches now
Might send his kids to me.
I'd slap his jaws and pull his ears
And stand him on the floor;
And then if he got sassy, say!
I'd do it o'er and o'er.
And wouldn't it be keen delight
For him to tell his pa!
For it was he who treated me
So lightly (?) on the jaw.

—Byron M. Carmony.

Dialogue in the House South of the Campus:

Sammy: "Dad, how is Emily like Sampson?"

Prof. Smith: "I don't know, son; how?"

Sammy: "In her blindness she is reaching for a Collom before the fall."

THE HIGHER LEARNING

School days, school days,

Dear new-fangled school days;

Fencing, eurythmics, and plastic art,

Taught with the aid of a Binet chart.

I was a lad with a low I. Q.

You were a maid with a minus two.

Just what we learned we never knew;

But that is the new-fangled way.

—Selected.

UNHAPPY F8

Weep to the tale of Willie T8

Who met a girl whose name was K8.

He courted her at fearful r8;

He begged her soon to become his m8.

"I would if I could," said lovely K8;

"I pity your lonely, unhappy st8;

But alas! alas! you've come too l8.

I'm married already—the mother of 8." —The Campus Ghost.

Dog gone he! I hate he!

I wish him were die!

Him told I him love I,

But oh, how him lie!

And now him has left

Poor I all alone.

Oh, cruel fate

That cannot was!

Lives of poor men oft remind us

Honest men don't stand a chance;

The more we work there grow behind us

Bigger patches on our pants.

THOUGHTS AT EXAMINATION TIME

For the day of exams has come and who shall be able to stand?

He who hath a quick hand and a full mind.

When ye see these things coming upon you, look up; for your redemption draweth nigh.

Blessed are the studious, for they shall have the best chance of passing.

Woe unto him who copies or cheats;
for he might copy the wrong thing.

EPITAPH

Here lies the body of Susan Jones,
Resting beneath these polished stones.

Her name was Brown instead of
Jones;

But Brown won't rhyme with polished stones;

And she won't know if it's Brown or
Jones.

Johnnie was a chemist;

He isn't any more;

For what he thought was H₂O

Was H₂SO₄.

MY "D"

Of all the courses I have had in this our college fair,
There's one that I consider bad; it makes me tear my hair.

The books were long and drawn out; the prof. was tired and sleepy;
Minutes were hours; without a doubt, it made the students creepy.

For eighteen weeks, 'midst tests and trials, we stood that dizzy course.
The last class hour we all were smiles; but listen, this is worse.

I got my card. "Ah, could it be?" I cried; my heart was broke,
My head did ache, I scarce could see, my throat was near a choke.

For twice I see a pretty "A"; three times there was a "B";
And then for that decrepit course, the prof. done give me "D."

"With malice toward none," Abe Lincoln wrote, but I can clearly see That Abe was never made the goat by getting just a "D."

Now Abe and I are just alike—two presidents are we;
And Abe was killed by crazy Booth and I by getting "D."

For four long years I've made the grades of "A" and "B" and "C";
In this my pride, my senior year, I'm given my first "D."

Thou faithless "D," I'll always hold a memory cold and hard
Of thee and of the prof. that put that "D" upon my card.

"D." CARMONY.

SOLILOQUY

Tubby, or not tubby; that is the question;
Whether 'tis nobler on one's form to suffer
The grief and burden of excess avoirdupois,
Or to take arms against a corpulent figure,
And by reducing, end it. To diet: to reduce:
No more; and by strict dieting to say we end
The heartache and the thousand natural shocks
The scales cause us: 'tis a consummation
Devoutly to be wished. To diet; to reduce;
To reduce: perchance to starve: aye, there's the rub;
For in that diet strict what pangs may come.
When we have forsworn every earthly edible,
Must give us pause; there's the respect
That makes superfluous flesh of such duration.

"TUBBY" KENDALL.

'ROUND THE 3-MILE SQUARE

"I'll teach you to make love to one of our fine girls," roared the Dean as he stepped heavily out of the V-8.

"Please do," replied the puzzled Bill Blue. "I'm not making a bit of headway as it is."

Bill Blue also tells us what ankles are for—to keep the calves out of the corn.

TO PROF. McCLAIN

The green of the fields shows up brighter
For stretches of dull brown between.
The light of each day shines out whiter
Because the dark nights intervene.
The blue of the sky seems much clearer
When patches of clouds may be seen—
So the few joys of school life are dearer
As long as the school has a Dean!
—A Student.

SHE

(With Apologies to Joyce Kilmer)

I think that I shall never see
A girl that's quite as dumb as she;
A girl whose mouth is never at rest,
Whom boys consider just a pest,
A girl that looks in the mirror all day
And lifts her face with mud and clay.
A girl that may in summer wear
A dress that never rips nor tears,
Upon whose head wave-set has lain
And in that head there is no brain.
Girls are made as dumb as she,
But everybody knows that she suits
me. —Selected.

FOLLOWING THE GLEAM

You can't fool me, Mr. Thunder,
When you're rumbling up above.
I know well your very trouble,
Poor old fellow, you're in love.

I don't wonder that you love her;
I have watched her many a night,
Playing in embellished splendor,
Dancing in a dazzling light.

You're attracted by her flashes,
By her brilliant, gleaming lines.
I've heard you roaring with delight
As 'round the stars she twines.

You can never catch Miss Lightning;
When you think she's there, she's gone—
Vanished from you into heaven
Quickly, like a startled fawn.

And so, rumbling, Mr. Thunder,
On you go still giving chase.
Let me warn you, kind old groaner,
Yours is just a losing race.

You will never win her that way,
Making such a horrid sound,
For a maiden's not attracted
By a grumbling man, I've found.

You won't want her if you get her;
She's a bold, bad maid, I fear;
For she's brought to poor, weak mortals
Many a heartache, many a tear.

Go on—chase her if you want her
(For that's just the way with boys);
But, poor, lovesick Mr. Thunder,
Please quit making such a noise.
—A Sophomore.

I sneezed a sneeze into the air;
It fell to earth, I know not where.
But hard and cold were the looks of those
In whose vicinity I snoze.

GOD IS EVERYWHERE

I revel in the storm
That sweeps o'er hill and dale;
It helps me know that human ways
Are all to no avail,
That God the Father is supreme
And works His way with care.
In spring's revival, summer's calm,
Or tempest's roaring blare,
God is in the storm;
God is everywhere.

—Margaret May Flint.

GOD MADE THINGS

Wild flowers growing on a hill,
Sunbeams dancing on window sill,
Bright pebbles in a crystal spring,
How beautiful are God-made things!

Bright glory of the rising sun,
Rainbow sky when the day is done,
The pale moon with her filmy rings,
How beautiful are God-made things!

Sound of wind whispering through trees,

Song of birds, roar of mighty seas,
The myriad songs that nature sings,
How beautiful are God-made things!

A life by God ordained and planned,
Ready, willing at His command,
That happiness to others brings.
How beautiful are God-made things!

—Esther Marie Moore.

FULFILLMENT

He who holds within his power
The knowledge of all little things,
The simple home, the precious hour
When hearth fires blaze and kettle sings.

He who finds joy in common place
And beauty in each grain of earth
Could ask no greater blessing—these
He has lived life and reaped its worth.

—Virginia Lee Nigh.

INFINITE

God does not let a sparrow fall unheeded;

Nor yet a child through darkness walk alone.

God will hang out stars when they are needed

To guide the weary traveler to his home.

God understands each smallest ache
and sorrow

And shields the weary head upon His breast,

“Fear not, I am the same today, tomorrow;

“Come unto Me and I will give you rest.”

—Virginia Lee Nigh.

FUTILITY

The morning sunrise, the nocturnal
fires,

And sunsets—all with upward-reaching gleams—

Within me kindled smoldering desires.

I thought them signs of greatness—called them dreams.

I said my neighbor had no dreams.
He worked;

I pitied him. The pain his labor cost
Ne'er came to me. I would be great.

I smirked:

“My fame will prove his years of toil lost.”

And when that man achieved renown,
I cried:

“The mercenary wretch receives reward

While vision goes unpaid!” My dreams had died,

But, in despair and failure, struggling toward

The cause, I found it:—“Not mere self-esteem

But effort brings fulfillment of a dream.”

—Lois Faythe Kendall.

HIS MOM

My mom, she makes the bestest pie
That ever was, by jing!
It most nigh makes your eyes pop out
To just look at the thing.
Other kids' moms, they come to her
To get pie pointers now;
An' they're as glad as they can be,
That my mom knows just how.

My mom kin take some flour an' make
A cake that tastes just fine.
Other kids' moms all want to take
Their recipe from mine;
An' when she takes the knife and cuts
An' gives a piece to each,
They wish their mom could bake that cake!
Say, ain't my mom a peach!

They's nothin' much my mom can't do
If she makes up her mind;
An' she is mighty chummy too,
One of the jolly kind.
Some moms would yell, "Oh, go and play;
I'm busy as can be!"
But my mom, she ain't built that way,
Not on your life, by gee!

—Ray Moore.

We'll begin with a box and the plural is boxes;
But the plural of ox should be oxen, not oxes;
Then one fowl is goose, but two are called geese;
Yet the plural of moose should never be mceese;
You may find a lone mouse, or a whole nest of mice,
But the plural of house is houses, not hice.
If the plural of man is always called men,
Why shouldn't the plural of pan be called pen?
The cow in the plural may be cows or kine
But a vow if repeated is never called vinc.
If I speak of a foot and you show me your feet,
And I gave you a boot, would a pair be called beet?
If the singular is this and the plural is these,
Should the plural of kiss be nicknamed keese?
The masculine pronoun are he, his, and him,
But imagine the feminine she, shis, and shim.
So the English I think you will all agree,
Is the most wonderful language you ever did see.

AND FINALLY,

the 1939 Aurora becomes a matter of history. It has been the source of a mixture of pain, grief, and not a little satisfaction and happiness to me.

The use of my original songs for the theme, I hope will meet with your approval. They are merely the idea of the moment taken down in music. That the music is not wonderful I will grant you; yet I hope that in years to come these songs will be the means of making your school years live more vividly in your minds and will make our Alma Mater a dearer place.

I wish to thank the following: Professor D. J. Strickler, the adviser to the Aurora for his intelligent counsel; all those who have given me the writings that bear their names; Esther Marie Moore and Lois Kendall for the Campus Cauldron and other writeups; Miss Jenks for her helpfulness; Ruth Browning and Louis Gale for help on the Freshmen section; Herman Price, Jr. for the Senior sayings; Mr. Fred Spieth and Carl Fliermans for the photography; Sam Roberts for the Bible verses; the Aurora Contest leaders and their aids; Professor C. Harmon, Alta Richards, Bond Woodruff, and Keith St. John for their writings and other aid; Virginia Nigh for her secretarial work; Frank Albert for trips to Danville; Business Manager Gordon Woods and his fine staff for helping to make this book possible; Mr. G. C. OLIVET - through its College of Liberal Arts, School of Music, Bible School and High School - offers • A warm spiritual atmosphere with unwavering devotion to the entire program of the Church • A well trained and consecrated faculty offering a thorough-going educational program, as recognized by the leading State Universities where Olivet credits are regularly accepted • A happy, normal social life with a complete schedule of collegiate activities • Home-like surroundings . . . meals prepared by a trained chef.

CHRISTIAN YOUTH

Christian youth aware of the limits of their own wisdom, taking counsel of the experience of the past, seeking the help that comes from God alone, cherishing no fantastic thought that theirs will be a quick or easy victory—Christian youth who calls Jesus master, who enlist in His cause for the duration of life, trusting the God of all power to give them strength for every need.

Like a Person . .

A Store Is Known
By the Company It Keeps

The Manufacturers a Store does business with—the Persons who do business with a Store . . . these determine a Store's character.

In 1896, Sandusky's started in the furniture business in Danville, buying from Manufacturers who made dependable merchandise and selling to Persons who wanted to rely on the Quality of what they bought. To-day—more than 42 years later—we're still doing business with many of our first customers . . . and many of our first Manufacturers, too!

We're proud of the opportunities we've had in the past "to keep company" with Olivet College—and we look forward confidently to continued opportunities to help you with your house-furnishing problems.
